

JUDGE'S ACTIONS HELP FRANK'S CHANCE State Labor Head to Pass on Strikers Case

Union Organized Among Strikers.
Police Propose Only to Preserve Order.

Strikers at the Pullman Bag and Cotton Mills Wednesday afternoon declared their intention of taking their troubles to State Labor Commissioner Baker and ask for his intervention. It is quite probable that it will be brought to his attention during the afternoon or early Thursday morning.

In bringing the strike before the commissioner the strikers say they will lay before him the exact conditions in the factory and ask Mr. Baker to order the strikers to return to work. The strikers grew more serious Wednesday when 28 women entered the dress room of the bag department walked out through sympathy with the striking weavers. It was reported among employees around the mill that several hundred operators in the bag department would quit Wednesday afternoon.

Following an effort to organize the workers into a union Tuesday afternoon efforts were being made Wednesday to get all of the 1,500 operators in the factory to affiliate with the union for better conditions. The strikers also claim that 200 men turned up as members of a union at a meeting on Central avenue Tuesday afternoon.

So far there has been little concerted action among the strikers. Each person has spoken and acted for himself. A committee was formed before Dr. Anna Shaw, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Women, arrived in the city Tuesday to state their complaints.

Asked Reinstatement.
"They asked me to reinstate an employee named Fowler, who was discharged last week," said Mr. Shaw. "I told them we could not consider such a demand, and the interview was ended."

"We have 10 per cent more employees in the weaving department today than yesterday. I believe that 10 who do not want to go back will be replaced by new employees by the end of the week. The trouble is all caused by a few rascals who are leading the others."

After the trial of three of the strikers Wednesday a committee of them made charge before Chief Healey that G. A. Johnson, general manager of the mills, had used profanity toward women employees. Chief Healey ordered Captain Mayo to notify Dr. Shaw to appear before Recorder Dr. Johnson to answer the charges Thursday.

Bond for Accused Striker.

The strikers were dated at another time. Will Tumbull, a striker who was bound over by Recorder Dr. Johnson to a $500 bond for interfering with the strikers, was released from jail when his friends gave the bond. He was congratulated by many women who were with him when he was released from jail. Just as the employees were on their way home for the night he was arrested.

To gain additional strength, leaders of the strikers said that plans were being arranged to secure a large band of men to march through the city streets on Friday afternoon. No one would admit being an active participant in making these plans, all of them admitted that they feared arrest.

After a conference with Mayor Woodard Wednesday, Chief Healey said he would keep special officers in the mill section to preserve peace. He said the police officers would not be in the least with the strikers. He said he would secure concessions from the strikers, but that order was not given.

Militants Now Must Kill or Go Backward, Says Dr. Anna Shaw

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Pankhurst and other militants of England have reached a point where they will either have to take human life in the carrying on of their campaign of militancy, or take a backward course, according to Dr. Anna Shaw, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Women. In her opinion, the militants would be glad to take the back track if they could find a way, and at the same time "save their faces."

Dr. Shaw opposed the coming of Mrs. Pankhurst to this country at this time, "because we have on our hands nine campaigns, any one of which is of more importance to the cause of woman suffrage in the world than is the campaign of Mrs. Pankhurst in England," she said.

Tennessee Company Shuts Down Furnace
SHRIMPINGHAM, Oct. 22.—The Tennessee Coal and Railroad Company has shut down the Alice furnace in Birmingham for repairs. The furnace was making basic iron used for conversion into steel products at the company's Shrimpington mill. The company has also let out 400 men employed in the steel mills at Ensley, it being understood that the decrease in force is only temporary.

With the exception of the Alice furnace, all the industries of the Tennessee Company are working on close to full time.

Europe to Flood U. S. With Goods--Schwab

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—European merchants are jubilant over the new American tariff bill and now are making plans for an invasion of the United States with their goods, according to Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who returned from Europe.

"Everywhere throughout Europe," said Schwab, "the merchants are preparing to ship heavy consignments of their products to America. It will take some little time before the invasion is well under way, but it surely will come."

Military Plot in Cuba Is Discovered

SPECIAL Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
HAVANA, Oct. 22.—A military plot against the Cuban Government has been discovered. Colonel Pujol, commander of the barracks at Matanzas, today ordered the arrest of two military officers and the detention of the army captain on the charge that they were conspiring against the public police.

Mercury Victim Is Dying Without Pain

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Lying fully conscious and without pain in what doctors are certain will prove his death bed, Isaac Levy, a wealthy Brooklyn clothing manufacturer, who sustained five hemorrhages of mercury taken by mistake, today summoned his lawyer and made his will. Then his twelve children and grandchildren were allowed to see him one by one for a final farewell.

"It seems too strange for comprehension that I should be lying here virtually unconscious and yet in no pain," declared Mr. Levy. "I feel as though I could get up and walk."

Thaw Sees Plot to Beat Him by Perjury

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 22.—Harry K. Thaw, to-day frankly confessed his alarm at William T. Jerome's wholesale summoning of witnesses to the sitting of the New York County Grand Jury Thursday.

"I am sure witness in put on who make statements similar to those already made by Mr. Jerome and District Attorney Conger," he said. "I fear the indictment will be returned against me."

Girls, Rival for Man, To Paint His Picture, Best One to Win Him

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The romance of a painting due in which two young art students of the Art Institute are to each paint the picture of the man they both love, the last picture to win the man as a life partner, became known to-day.

Miss Leslie Shaw, of Texas, and Miss Ruth Higgins, of Greenboro, N. C., are the contestants. The identity of the man is kept secret, but it is admitted he is a rich Texas rancher.

"You see, he can't decide between us," one of the girls declared to-day. "We are both the best of friends and the man says he is perfectly contented to decide the question this way."

RIO JANEIRO, BRAZIL, Oct. 22.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt to-day was taken for an automobile ride and later inspected the most important of the public buildings. The colonel expressed his pleasure at everything he saw, but could not completely hide his impatience to get into the untrodden jungles.

He questioned his companion on the comparative wisdom of the South American and African jungles. He will take many trophies back to the United States and will write a book on his experiences.

CERTIFIES TO CHEERS IN COURT; HEARING MAY GO ON ALL WEEK

Prospects for a new trial for Leo M. Frank were made much brighter Wednesday afternoon by Judge Roan's certification of the defense's description of the disorder and demonstration in the courtroom on various occasions during Frank's trial. The judge's official approval of this fact as a ground for argument will give the defense an invaluable advantage when the arguments begin, and also before the Supreme Court in the event that it becomes necessary to carry the fight for Frank's life to the higher tribunal.

The facts to which Judge Roan certified were contained in the defense's charge that immediately on the announcement that Conley's testimony, taken to show perversion and immorality and acts wholly dissipated from the charge of murder, was to stand, there were immediate cheers, clapping of hands and stamping of feet in the courtroom.

Jury In Adjacent Room.

The jurors were in an adjacent room at the time, so close, in the opinion of Judge Roan, as to be able readily to hear the demonstration.

The defense also held that the court was in error when it refused at the time to grant a mistrial for which Attorney Arnold moved, and did not clear the courtroom as was demanded by both the attorneys for the defense.

It also was charged by the defense that during the examination of one of the witnesses the crowd made a jeering demonstration against Attorney Arnold.

Judge Roan certified to all of these facts as represented by the defense, a circumstance which is regarded as most favorable to Frank's chance for a new trial.

Solicitor Dorsey won a slight victory when the battle ranged around section 13 of the motion which declared that the Solicitor had continued his cross-examination of witnesses to draw out particular acts of immorality on the part of the pencil factory superintendent when Judge Roan had ruled against such questions. Mr. Dorsey demanded that this particular reference to him in the motion be struck out and it was granted by Judge Roan, after a bitter struggle.

Calls Testimony Prejudicial.

Another point brought up for arraignment by counsel for the defense was the testimony of Conley that he had been refused admittance to Frank's cell when taken to the Tower by detectives. Attorney Arnold ascribed this testimony as irrelevant and prejudicial before the jury and declared that the court erred in admitting it.

From that point the fight veered to section 16 of the motion pertaining to the testimony of Mrs. Arthur White, wife of a machinist at the pencil factory. The defense declared that the court erred in permitting the State to draw from this witness the fact that she had not reported the fact that she saw a negro in the factory on the day of the murder until three days later, and then to attorneys for Frank. Attorney Rosser stated that such testimony was a direct reflection on the witness and the defense.

Rosser repeatedly charged Dorsey with quibbling, splitting hairs and on one occasion intimated that the Solicitor was seeking to hang a man "on the dotting of an 'i' or the crossing of a 't'."

No mention had yet been made of the charges of bias and prejudice against Jurors Henslee and Johnenning. The early reasons had to do with errors which the court had committed, according to the contentions of the defense, in letting in certain testimony of Detectives Black and Starnes and Newt Lee and keeping out a part of that of Black.

Conley's testimony became the subject of heated discussion immediately on the reading of the tenth reason of the defense. In this it was argued that the court had been in error in denying the admittance of the defense to strike out all of Conley's testimony in regard to the alleged perversion of the defendant on the ground that it was immaterial, irrelevant, illegal and highly prejudicial to Frank.

Dorsey was successful in his effort to have added to the reason the fact that the motion was made and decided only after this lapse of time. The attorneys for the defense maintained that the cross-examination up to the time the motion was made never had touched on the subject of perversion and this also was incorporated in the reason. The Solicitor having the privilege of investigating the records on the question.

Sections 10 and 11 dealt with the same subject, except that one was in

EMPLOYEES TO ACCEPT OLD JOBS

Cotton Mill Workers Consume Offer as Concession—Management Denies Yielding.

Settlement of the strike at the Fulton and Cotton Mills was held in the morning when a meeting of most of the men who walked out Monday was held in the Temple of Labor, on Trinity avenue. The report was that certain concessions had been offered by the mill authorities and that the strike leaders would urge that everyone go back to work at noon.

Mr. Elias, president of the mill, said Thursday morning that all the strikers would be given back their jobs. He said the mill had offered them the concessions from the management reigning at the time they walked out.

"They walked out of the mill over my protest," he said. "We didn't put us in a convent with them. We haven't kept them out and we haven't kept them out of the strikers since Tuesday when they can all go back to work."

Several police officers were still on guard around the mill Thursday, despite the fact that the threats of violence were likely to be charged. Mr. Elias said that the men who walked out of the mill were not to be taken out of the mill. They had been told that if they started back to work they would be done badly here, he said.

Can't Strike Without Food. Chief Beavers had mounted police at the gates of the factory at the time when the employees were going in and out. He said he would continue to take every precaution against violence to employees and damage to property.

The strikers seemed to lose heart when plans to have a parade through the mill district with a brass band failed. They hoped to give large numbers of recruits by this demonstration. Promises had been made that many other employees would join the strike. But the movement was unopposed. There were so many women and children concerned that the movement, whatever its merits, was ended. The women and children would strike without money for food.

A prominent labor leader of Atlanta has taken an interest in the strike and the cold weather was driving them back.

Through City Warden Thomas E. Hester, the labor leader has secured an office a glimpse into the darkest of the mill district. A woman who lives in the mill district appeared to him Wednesday afternoon to help. She said she had five children, the two oldest of her children (boys) were able to work in the mill. Her husband was required at home to care for the very small children.

The two sons who had been supporting the family accompanied the labor leader to the Warden's office. One appeared to be about 16 years old and the younger was a pale, thin-faced child of uncertain age.

THE WEATHER.
Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia: Warmer Thursday; showers Friday.

Find Man Overcome By Gas; Accident, Declare Friends

Physicians worked hard Thursday to save the life of John Kerr, aged 48 years, one of the oldest, boldest men at the Southern Railway shops, who was overcome by gas in his room at 47 Hendricks avenue. His condition was discovered early Thursday morning when the escaping gas was noted by other people in the house. He is still in an unconscious condition.

The near-suffocation is believed by members of the family of John W. Davis, with whom he resided, to be an accident and not an attempt at suicide.

John W. Davis, son of John W. Davis, a well-known Georgia politician, was in the room with his wife, who is now in New York on a visit. She has been notified of his condition.

New Buffalo Nickel Is Not Counterfeit; Design Only Changed

People who take the new nickels now have no fear of being buffed, for the Indian on the buffalo nickel is as "home" as ever.

This announcement was made by a United States mint official, who thought they had been swayed by counterfeit 5-cent pieces of a new Buffalo nickel pattern. A new die had been adopted at the Philadelphia mint, different from the one which the Denver mint used.

The difference between the two dies is chiefly in the supporting mound beneath the buffalo. The original nickel, that of the new design, has changed the design of the mound, giving it a more natural appearance, it requires. On the side of the nickel, on the old nickel it read, "Five Cents" and "U. S. M. T."

The new design the side of the nickel reads "Five Cents" and "U. S. M. T." The appearance of the new nickel is a slight change, but it is a change.

'Baby Paul's' Snake Scares Hotel Guests

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—Guests of the Hotel Henry, passing the open door of apartments occupied by Prince Paul, DeLorraine, were terrified by the sight of a snake coiled on the floor of the hotel. The snake, a black and white, was about 3 feet long and 1 inch in diameter. It was found in the room of Prince Paul, a Russian exile, who is reported to be the prototype of the "Baby Paul" in "Kluge's" "Three Weeks," received the snake six years ago from a friend.

Lean Men Wicked, Says Bishop Quayle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Bishop Quayle, of the Methodist Church, has compiled some statistics on lean and fat men. He said today: "Men, when they are lean, take themselves too seriously and mistake what he looks like. He is wicked and has not half the chance the fat man has of being good."

"Laughing, the gift of the fat man, is the mark of humanity."

Mother Rushes Back Into Flames To Carry to Safety Forgotten Children.

The heroic efforts of Mrs. R. M. Cason, No. 47 Alaska avenue, early Thursday morning saved the life of her two little children. The house was entirely enveloped in flames and in danger of collapsing at any moment when Mrs. Cason carried her two children from the building. Mrs. Cason was uninjured.

At 3 o'clock Mrs. Cason was aroused by the crackling of timbers and the blinding glare of flames. She awoke her husband and Bugg and he rushed to the street. She saw he did not have her children, and a scream started back into the burning structure.

Mrs. Cason was at the front door when her husband and Bugg and he rushed to the street. She saw he did not have her children, and a scream started back into the burning structure.

Fighting her way through the smoke and flames, she reached the bedroom. Margaret, 2 years old, was trying to end her way out of the room, and the baby, 2 months old, was crying. With children, she fought her way through the burning hall and reached the street in safety. Her husband and Bugg and his wife were standing in the street, pale and shivering.

Bugg made several trips into the apartment in which he lived and brought out several pieces of furniture. The last trip into the house was disastrous to him, as a falling beam struck him on the shoulder, slipping off to his left hand, which was badly burned.

Jewelry intact. A jewelry case on Mrs. Bugg's bureau, containing several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry, was found in the ruins Thursday morning, after the fire. intact.

The building was totally destroyed. The home of F. G. Cook, who had adopted the Bugg-Cason residence, was badly scorched.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 23.—Baiting against deadly gas fumes that rose out of a cavern in the earth, a score of rescuers delved into shaft No. 2 of the Stag Canon mines today where over 250 miners were entombed behind hundreds of feet of debris. More than 500 other rescuers stood back from the mine shaft ready to be lowered into the shaft as soon as the active workers were called. Back of them more than 1,000 women, men and children were grouped about, watching, praying, listening for word that some of their loved ones had been found alive.

A weekly inspection at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon had caught 280 men under the earth and imprisoned them behind a solid wall of earth. The debris which had collected below the mine level was blamed by the mine officials for their resort to the cavern, the Pankhurst Company, of New York. Five men were found 100 feet below the entrance to the shaft. They were alive, but they were unable to tell their story when they were lifted from the mine. Later, when they had been revived, there was some talk of their tale, so in vain were the 500 rescuers in their efforts to bring out the remaining 275 men several hundred feet below the mine level.

Two hours after the five were found alive the first dead were found. During the last fourteen dead and 23 injured were taken from the mine. In the all-night fight with debris the rescuers penetrated to the fourteenth level, about a mile into the side of Black Mountain and then were set free from the remaining victims.

The rescuers were picked up along the level in one and two and could only point the way onward into the depths for the rescuers.

More Far & Closer. The hope that at least most of the men were still alive was held out by the Government mine rescue workers who were pushed here early today on a special train from Trinidad, Colo. There was little sign in the work-lags that could be reached by the helmeted men, and the smoke of the explosion had nearly covered by daylight. Danger of fire in the underground caverns was believed to be small, and the only fear entertained by the rescuers was that the men had been killed in the falling walls of the mine or crushed to death by the shattered timbers. If they could hold out against starvation and lack of water until the men could tunnel through hundreds of feet of debris it was believed that all, or nearly all, would be found alive.

A pathetic scene about the mine entrance was revealed by the dawn. Mothers, aches, weeping and children were kept back by a special guard. Nearly crazed by the fear that their loved ones were dead or dying deep in the earth, several in the crowd that had watched and waited all night long, made frantic efforts to break through the line. They were gently restrained by guarding men who had been taking turns at the mine shaft and standing the rescuers, and led to the back of the eagerly waiting crowd, where comforting words of encouragement and hope were spoken to them.

BITTEREST CONTEST OF RETRIAL HEARING DUE OVER AFFIDAVITS

The most bitterly fought contest of the entire hearing on a new trial for Leo M. Frank was looked for Thursday over the alleged bias of A. H. Henslee and Marcelus Johnsen, two of the twelve jurors who decided that Frank should go to the gallows as the slayer of Mary Phagan.

With the purpose of overlooking no possible aid in their assault upon these two jurors, agents for Frank's lawyers were continuing their search Wednesday and Thursday for persons who had talked to Henslee and Johnsen before the trial of Frank began and who had heard them comment in one way or another on the tragic end of the little factory girl.

The result of the combing that has been given Atlanta and the towns through which Henslee passed as a traveling salesman for carriages and accessories was made evident when C. W. Burke, agent for Attorney Rosser, brought in sworn statements to the hearing from persons who were willing to testify that Henslee had expressed his belief in Frank's guilt days or several weeks before the trial began.

Before the hearing was well under way Attorney Rosser announced that there were a number of affidavits which he had not yet obtained, but which he wished to submit along with the rest as soon as they were signed. He remarked that Solicitor General had made the exchange of affidavits so late that he had not had the opportunity to get four or five counter affidavits which he knew were available.

With the review of the defense's grounds for a new trial more than a third completed, it was regarded as almost certain that the fight on the jurors would be precipitated some time Thursday.

The defense, to support their contention of bias and undue prejudice had more than a score of affidavits to submit from reputable and prominent persons in Atlanta, Sparta and Monroe, who swore that they had heard Henslee before the trial bitterly denounce Frank and declare that if he was called as a juror he would do his best to "break his (Frank's) neck."

Friends of the convicted factory superintendent, without minimizing in any way the weight and importance of the host of other reasons for a new trial advanced by Frank's lawyers, were jubilantly assured that there was more than enough weight in Henslee's alleged prejudice alone to furnish a basis for the granting of a new trial.

Dorsey Full of Fight. Solicitor Dorsey went into the hearing Thursday prepared to concede nothing and determined to fight every inch of the way against the accusations of bias and prejudice. He was fortified with affidavits from Henslee and Johnsen testifying to their own lack of bias when the trial started and with affidavits from other members of the jury who swore that during the 23 days of the trial they never heard Henslee or Johnsen utter a word that indicated their opinion was for or against the defendant.

Reuben Arnold made the startling charge just before the close of the first day's session that it was the crowd, and not the judge and jury, who ran the Frank trial.

The discussion was on reason 23, which warranted that during Attorney Arnold's examination of one of the witnesses the spectators laughed in derision when he failed to elicit the answers desired.

"It seemed as though I was the comedian of the trial," observed Arnold. "I never knew I was so funny until that trial took place. No, I never time I jumped out there was a

Take Wilburn in Auto. Appreciative felt the strong feeling which was so manifest at the time of the killing had not subsided. Sheriff Roberts took extra precaution in bringing Wilburn from Macon to Macon. Wilburn was handcuffed and seated in an automobile between the Sheriff and Detective Moore, who followed out the crime and obtained a confession from the prisoner. The party left Macon at 7:30 a.m. and reached Gray's just a few minutes before court opened and just as the train from Macon arrived. The crowd was expecting Wilburn on the train, and there were few at the courthouse to observe the prisoner as he was taken out of the city and into the jail.

Sheriff Roberts will not allow Wilburn and Mrs. King to see each other. He has arranged a cell for Wilburn on the ground floor, immediately under the cell occupied by Mrs. King. The two prisoners have no means of communication.

Although extra deputies were sworn in to assist the Sheriff in event of trouble, the hearing made Frank's lawyers gathered from all parts of Georgia, was so excitedly orderly and there was no evidence of excitement against the prisoner. Attorney John B. Cooper insists, however, that he is fearful of an outbreak, and still deems that Wilburn should have been granted a change of venue.

City Officials Will Hear Special Sermon

Atlanta's noble officials will attend the Second Baptist Church Sunday night, where the pastor, Dr. John E. White, will deliver a special sermon on the subject of "The Building of Our City Beautiful."

The service will begin at 8 o'clock. An invitation has been extended to the Mayor, members of city departments and members of the City Council and other municipal bodies.

FRANK CASE EVIDENCE ASSAILED

U. S. Complexes Plans for Mexican Intervention

EARLY HOSTS AGAINST ALIENS

Navy and Army Held in Readiness to Check Expected Trouble at Sunday's Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Fearing anti-foreign outbreaks during the Mexican election scheduled for Sunday, the Administration today completed its preparations for armed intervention in Mexico should this become necessary. Both the army and the navy are in such form that they can be moved instantly and with the least possible loss of efficiency.

In addition to the three dreadnaughts now anchored at Vera Cruz with their guns trained on the city, the European cruise of the Atlantic fleet, which is scheduled to be in the Gulf of Mexico, has given the Government an excuse to call and fully provision nine of the largest ships of the navy. The Wyoming, Utah, Florida, Arkansas, Delaware, Connecticut, Vermont, Kansas and Ohio will steam out of Hampton Roads Saturday morning.

Big Ships in Call.
The big ships will proceed to full speed, but will cruise leisurely seaward, so as to be within easy striking distance of the coast.

It is anticipated that the anti-foreign outbreaks, if they occur, will take place either Sunday or Monday, and it could be the work of less than an hour to change the route of the fleet and send all nine fighting ships southward to the Gulf, where, with the assistance of the torpedo division, now quartered at Hampton Roads, and Charleston, S. C., they could land men on the east coast of Mexico.

In addition to these nine vessels, the Navy Department holds the Virginia, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Nebraska ready at Norfolk for their Mexican cruise, which will begin October 28. The dreadnaughts are fueled and provisioned now, however, and an move instantly if necessary. This division of the fleet is intended to relieve the Louisiana, Michigan and New Hampshire, which have been "requested" by President Huerta to leave. In event of trouble, however, this trio of battleships would remain in Mexican waters and land men and sailors to protect American property.

Army Ready, Too.
The preparations of the army for intervention are no less complete than those of the navy. To "ready" the Second and Fifth Regiments of cavalry, which have been stationed on the border for several years, General Wood has ordered the Tenth and Fifteenth cavalry to the border. No date has been set for the transfer, but both the Tenth and Fifteenth have received orders to remain in marching trim.

In addition to this, the Government has 5,000 troops at Texas City, Texas, within a few miles of the border, armed and ready to move. The arrival of the two additional regiments of cavalry would give the Administration close to 15,000 troops of all kinds along the border, and it is claimed that this force will be sufficient to keep the Rio Grande at the first sign of trouble or danger to foreigners.

Find Man Overcome By Gas; Accident, His Friends Assert

Physicians worked hard Thursday to save the life of John Kerr, aged 45 years, one of the oldest hollers at the Southern Railway shops, who was overcome by gas in his room at 47 Henderson avenue. His condition was discovered early Thursday morning when the sleeping gas was noted by other people in the house. He is still in an unconscious condition.

The near-asphyxiation is believed by members of the family of John W. Davis, with whom he resided, to be an accident and not an attempt at suicide. James Davis, son of John W. Davis, awoke at 5 o'clock Thursday morning and detected the odor of gas. An investigation revealed it coming from the room occupied by Kerr. Other members of the family were aroused and the door to the room forced open, when the gas jet was found to be partly open. Kerr was found lying motionless in the bed.

Mr. Kerr is one of the oldest employees at the Southern shops. He has lived with the Davis family a long while with his wife, who is now in New York on a visit. She has been notified of his condition.

3000 MORE TO 14 DEAD; 200 STRIKE

Cotton Workers Accept Old Jobs and Promise of Better Working Conditions.

More than 3000 striking men and women employees of the Pullman Bag and Cotton Mills voted to go back to work at a mass meeting at the Atlanta Temple of Labor Thursday morning. The strikers marched from the mill village to the labor building on Trinity avenue in a body. They declared that only about half their number were present, but that all would stand by the action of the meeting.

P. W. Flynn, chairman of the meeting, who was named chairman of a committee to inform Oscar Elzas, president of the Pullman Bag and Cotton Mills, of the desire of the dissatisfied employees to go back to work, explained the action of the meeting.

"Mr. Elzas has informed us that he was ignorant of the cause of some of our grievances, but that if we will go back to work conditions will be improved," he said.

"We have been holding out for the reinstatement of Fowler, the discharged worker. The fact that he was discharged precipitated the strike, but the real cause was deeper. It was against generally bad conditions."

"Mr. Elzas is willing to right our wrongs and we will all go back to work Friday morning."

There was a discussion of plans for the organization of a union of the mill operators, but no definite action was taken.

Police on Guard Thursday.
Oscar Elzas, president of the mill, said Thursday morning that all the strikers would be given back their jobs. He said the mill had offered them no concessions from the conditions reigning at the time they walked out.

"They walked out of the mill over our protest," he said. "We didn't put them out and we haven't kept them out. I haven't conferred with representatives of the strikers since Thursday. But they can all go back to work."

Special police officers were all on guard around the mill Thursday, despite the fact that the threats of hundreds of other employees to join the strikers and the mounting of some of the very radical agitators that violence was likely to be changed to talk of peace. Mr. Elzas said that the many women who had gone out stayed out purely from fear. They had been told that if they started back to work they would be done badly harm, he said.

Can't Strike Without Food.
Chief Elzas had mounted policemen at the gate of the factory at the house when the employees were going in and out. He said he would continue to take every precaution against violence to employees and damage to property.

A prominent labor leader of Atlanta who has taken an interest in the case stated up the situation with the statement that the cold weather was driving them back.

Thoroughly "city" women Thomas Evans' office a glimpse into the darkest side of the affair was given. A woman who lives in the mill district addressed to him Wednesday afternoon the help she and she had five children and was a widow, and they only the two oldest of her children (boys) were able to work in the mill. Her time was required to make to care for the very small children.

The two sons who had been supporting the family accompanied the mother to the Warden's office. One of them appeared to be about 15 years old and the younger was a pale, undeveloped child of uncertain age.

TESTIMONY CHARGING MORAL ASSAULT ON FRANK DEFENSE

The character of Leo M. Frank, a burning issue during his trial for the murder of Mary Phagan, again was the subject of animated argument at the hearing on a new trial Thursday in the library of the State Capitol. Almost the entire forenoon was given over to a fight by Frank's attorneys to establish as reasons for a new trial the admission by Judge Ross of all the mass of evidence which sought to prove Frank a pervert and a degenerate of the worst type.

Throughout the hearing, the lawyers for Frank made ground after ground for a new trial upon the attacks that had been made by the Solicitor upon Frank's character. It was apparent that the convicted man's lawyers were confident that the court had been led into an error by admitting testimony of this sort.

Every question asked by the Solicitor during the trial which sought to elicit answers derogatory to Frank's character and moral conduct entered into the numerous reasons for a new trial.

The admission of all the testimony bearing on Frank's alleged attitude toward women and his reported acts of perversion, particularly as testified to by Caley; the alleged bias of the jury in the case; the fact that the courtroom was the three grounds for a new trial on which the defense will place the greatest stress in their arguments, according to all indications during the first two days of the hearing.

The testimony of Miss Irene Jackson, the pretty daughter of County Judge Jackson, formed the basis of a heated argument at the outset of the hearing between Solicitor Dorsey and A. K. Stephens on one side and Reuben Arnold and Herbert Haas on the other, the attorneys for the defense coming off victorious.

Reuben Arnold, chief of counsel for Frank, was not present when the hearing resumed in the little courtroom of the library in the State library.

Attack Girl's Testimony.
Miss Jackson's testimony was taken up in the forty-third session. The court was declared in error because Miss Jackson had been permitted to tell of alleged particular acts of immorality on the part of Frank which had nothing to do with the crime of murder.

Dorsey maintained that absolutely no objection had been made at the time. Arnold and Haas replied that a blanket or omnibus objection had been made while Miss Jackson was on the stand from which a ruling came in the shape of this class should be regarded as objected to.

Defense Wins Again.
Judge Ross, decided in favor of Arnold and Haas, remarking that the testimony of Miss Jackson, which had been made while she was on the stand from which a ruling came in the shape of this class should be regarded as objected to.

The defense, to support their contention of bias and violent prejudice, had more than a score of affidavits to submit from reputable and prominent persons in Atlanta, Sparta and Monroe. Dorsey swore that they had heard Hendes before the trial bitter denounce Frank and declare that if he was called as a juror he would do his best to "break his (Frank's) neck."

Friends of the convicted factory superintendent, without maintaining in any way the weight and importance of the host of other reasons for a new trial advanced by Frank's attorneys, were jubilantly assured that there was more than enough weight in Hendes' alleged prejudice alone to furnish a basis for the granting of a new trial.

Dorsey Full of Fight.
Solicitor Dorsey went into the hearing Thursday prepared to concede nothing and determined to fight every inch of the way against the accusations of bias and prejudice. He was fortified with affidavits from Hendes and Johnnie testifying to

FISHER INDICTED IN DALTON AS SLAYER

DALTON, Oct. 22.—J. A. Fisher, the man who produced the latest sensation in the Frank case, was today indicted for murder by the Grand Jury in session here.

The bill of indictment charges him with killing his brother-in-law, Dag Doyle.

Doyle was found dead beside the Southern Railway tracks near the northern limits of Dalton about five days ago. It appeared that a train had passed over him, for his head was cut off and the body mangled, but lying to an absence of blood it was thought he had been killed and placed by the truck to hide the crime.

This caused the coroner's jury to prolong the investigation for several days. A verdict that Doyle was killed by a train was finally returned because of inability to find any evidence pointing to anyone as his slayer.

One Grand Jury investigated the death, but took no action. The affair was then forgotten until the present Grand Jury, beset by rumors that Doyle was murdered, reopened the investigation and got enough evidence to warrant the indictment of Fisher.

Grabs Pet as Father Carries Her to Safety—Mother Rescues Baby.

Saved from death by her father, R. M. Cason, who carried her through flaming smoke and falling timbers to the sidewalk when their home at No. 47 Alaska avenue caught fire Thursday morning at 1 o'clock, 3-year-old Margaret Cason is happy because she rescued her pet cat, Besie, from the flames.

Handling, half choked, from his arms as her father plunged through the smoke-filled hallway, the little girl saw her kitten leaping, leaped against the wall. She slipped from her father's arms and, seeing the cat, ran out into the street, unharmed, and with her beloved pet clasped close to her breast.

Her father followed her a moment later, half strangled by the smoke.

Behind Mr. Cason and the little girl Mrs. Cason struggled heavily, carrying her 2-month-old baby, Richard, whom she snatched from his cradle when she was awakened by the small of smoke and the glare of the flames. Mrs. Cason's dress was scorched, and both she and the baby were half strangled by the dense smoke.

None of the members of the Cason family were injured. R. M. Cason, 35, was not injured. E. M. Cason, 35, was not injured.

24 Hours of Rain in Sight for Atlanta

Umbrellas and "slickers" will be strictly in order during the next 24 hours. Weather Forecaster Von Herrmann, in his official prediction Thursday, promises almost continual rain for to-night and Friday—the sort of rain which has been falling at intervals for the past twelve hours, and which has caused the streets to be almost deserted.

There will not be much change in temperature, the mercury being due to stay about where it has been all day—around the 58 mark. The city is under martial law. Among the prisoners is Captain Cuthbert, a cousin of the late Kate Petro.

HOWARD INSISTS ON CONGRESS PROBE

THE FORCE COTTON CROP ACTION ON ENRICHING CHARGES AT ATLANTA

Congressman Asserts Truth of Accusations Against U. S. Warden Must Come Out.

Declaring that should the Department of Justice refuse to act on the charges of unfit conditions at the Federal prison, made by Julian Howard, a statement Thursday, reformist Congressman William Schley Howard, of Georgia, introduced a resolution to force a full investigation.

Mr. Howard stated that he would introduce a resolution into Congress upon his return to Washington asking the appointment of a Congressional committee to carry on this investigation. He avowed that this was demanded in justification to humanity, if the charges proved true, and for the consideration of Warden Meyer. If the accusations are untrue, Senator Hoke Smith, who made a tour of inspection of the prison Wednesday, refused to make a statement Thursday. He stated that he had formed no opinion so far which he would make public on the sensational allegations, and would not say what his action would be when he returned to Washington.

Mr. Howard's statement follows:

Charge Serious.

"Respectable people have made charges as to the conduct of the Federal prison. These charges in my character are serious. Maltreatment of the prisoners is alleged in that they are not sufficiently fed, that their physical condition is being impaired by the lack of nutritious food and proper medical attention.

"The Department of Justice, through the press, has stated that these are statements made by persons who have no knowledge of the conditions at the prison—that they are false in their entirety.

"Fully realizing that incarceration of those who violate the law is absolutely necessary for the safety of society and the detriment of crime, and that those who fall into the coils of the law should not be furnished the comforts of life while serving their sentences, and that punishment in some form or other is necessary for the maintenance of discipline in this prison, I have refrained from giving to the public who are interested from a standpoint of humanity in these prisoners my views of the present conditions.

"Congress is entitled to the whole truth about the administration of affairs in this institution. If the Department of Justice does not make a full, free and impartial investigation, I shall introduce a resolution upon my return to Washington, asking for the appointment of a Congressional committee to visit this prison and ascertain the whole truth. If these men are underfed Congress should know it; if the statements made in the local press are untrue, the public should know it in justice to the warden and other officials in charge.

"If conditions are brought about by ineffectual appropriations for subsistence the warden knows the better it will be for the men confined. If discipline is lacking the cause for its existence should be determined and speedily corrected, if the most drastic methods have to be resorted to.

"So far as I am concerned, this is all I have to say until I speak with the authority of Congress behind me and those with whom I shall be associated."

Bankers Say High Price of Fine Staple Is Responsible for Money Influx.

Conservative bankers declared Thursday that bank deposits at present in Atlanta break all records. They estimated that the day's deposits exceeded all previous records by more than $6,000,000.

With the movement of cotton well under way, indications are that even these figures will be beaten before the end of the week. To-day's record is the second that has been set this week.

Last Monday bank clearings reached the highest mark in the city's history for one day.

The unprecedented deposits taken by the bankers as an indication of the wave of prosperity sweeping Georgia on the heels of a good cotton crop. The state is of a better quality than any crop in recent years, and better prices are being paid the farmer, putting more money in circulation as the movement of the crop is carried on.

The bank clearings of Atlanta financial institutions have been setting new marks in the last few weeks. On Monday the clearings reached a high water mark of $47,000,000, a gain of more than $20,000,000 over the clearings of Saturday, which were $27,000,000 and a record up to that time.

Stacy McPherson, an authority on bank statistics, declared Thursday that $6,000,000 above the record in bank deposits was not an exaggerated estimate.

Georgia's banner cotton crop is bringing a record price and is moving so rapidly that refrigerator cars are actually being pressed into service for the handling of it.

From all over Georgia came glowing reports in the belief that cotton is going to soar upward to a much higher price. Many of the country merchants and farmers are holding to their cotton.

This augurs well for financial conditions, in the opinion of many bankers, as it means a continual and heavy flow of money into Georgia for months to come.

CRUSHING ASSAULT ON CONDUCT OF TRIAL IS MADE IN FRANK'S FIGHT

Reserving until the last their most crushing assault upon the manner in which the Frank trial was conducted and upon the alleged bias of the jurors that tried the accused man, the lawyers for the defense went into the hearing for retrial Thursday afternoon armed with affidavits swearing that Juror A. H. Henslee was in Albany, Ga., on the date he has declared he was not there, and when he said to have uttered his opinion of Frank's guilt before the trial.

Henslee met the charge that he had expressed in Albany his belief that Frank killed Mary Phagan by the declaration that he was not in that city at the time the utterances were alleged to have been made.

Attorney Roser announced Thursday afternoon that he would submit to Judge Roan incontrovertible proof that Henslee's name was on the register at a hotel in Albany and under a date corresponding to the time in question.

An another proof that the juror was misrepresenting the facts of the case, the lawyer promised also to submit affidavits from three persons who had sworn that they saw Henslee in Albany at this time.

The forenoon session was practically divided between a determined and uniformly successful struggle by the defense to incorporate the admission of every fragment of character testimony against Frank as a reason upon which to argue for a new trial, and a squabble over the testimony of E. H. Pickett, who declared that Minola McKnight had told him that her salary in the Frank home was raised immediately after the crime, that she was given a new maid by Mrs. Frank, and that she was instructed by Mrs. Frank's mother, to say nothing to anyone about the murder.

Grand Jury Finds 19 True Bills, One 'No' Bill, in Hour

The Fulton County Grand Jury returned nineteen true bills and one "no" bill in a record-breaking session lasting a little more than an hour Thursday morning.

The most important indictment returned was that of W. M. Herald, of Jacksonville, Fla., charged with snatching a purse containing $14 from Mrs. E. D. Griffin on the night of October 18.

Herald told a pathetic story of a wife and starving babies who he was arrested before he could do anything to help them. He said that his testimony would not have been admissible even if he had, that Conley's performance at the trial was not the same as he described it on the stand at the trial; that the negro described it entirely differently on the stand, at least, differently in many particulars; that it could not help the jury for Conley to illustrate his last affidavit, when he said on the stand that much of it was a lie and didn't happen at all, and that this evidence was of another transaction and not binding on the defendant. The reason was approved by Judge Roan.

Attorney Roser and Arnold maintained that Pickett's testimony should be allowed to stand as a reason to be argued for a new trial in that it was palpably immaterial evidence employed to impeach the testimony of the McKnight women. This ground was approved after slight revision by Judge Roan.

ATTACK ON JUDGE BRENSFEE ALONE ENOUGH TO WIN, IS BELIEF OF FRANK DEFENSE

"Should Have Cleared Court." The defense, in outlining its reasons, held that the judge should have cleared the court or taken other radical steps to put a stop to the demonstration. "There is nothing in the courtroom was not sufficient as the surrounding disturbances, handicapping and other demonstrations required," the reason read.

Solicitor Dorsey, objecting to this reason as he did to practically every reason that was offered, insisted that the dialogue between lawyer and witness which was taking place at the time of the laughter was to show the real cause of the incident.

"That's all right, but it is," acquiesced Arnold. "I just wanted to show that it was the spectators who were running the court and not the judge and jury."

The transcript of testimony at this point was entered in the reason in accordance with the wishes of the Solicitor.

Judge Roan hurried the lawyers along in the afternoon session and more than twice as many of the reasons were taken up and passed on as in the forenoon. The majority of the reasons, most of them with oral revisions insisted upon by the Solicitor, were approved by Judge Roan.

Others were dismissed from consideration temporarily to be taken up later when the Solicitor had been able to investigate them carefully by comparison with the records of the case.

Judge Telle of Appeals, one of the most significant events of the hearing, was in the opinion of the judge, the most important of the trial.

By Judge Telle of the description of the episode in the courtroom when it was announced that the testimony of Frank should remain in the record, Judge Roan testified that it was his recollection that there was applause and stamping of feet and that there was a demonstration which could have been easily avoided by the jury who were in an adjacent room.

On the certification of the fact, the judge is regarded as highly favorable to the prosecution for a new trial, but should a new trial be denied by Judge Roan, the defense would not be compelled to go behind the statement of fact, as the statement of fact is the basis of the possibility of the jury hearing the demonstration was merely a contention of the defense, unsupported by the court's verdict.

All of the grounds bearing on the jury's testimony which had to do with the alleged acts of perversion also were submitted as lines of argument in the move for a new trial. Practically all of the reasons were submitted to slight amendment at the suggestion of the defense, but were not vitally altered.

Attack Miss Fisher's Testimony. The defense insisted upon a motion in all of the paragraphs to the effect that the testimony of Miss Fisher, who was along this line was made by the judge for the defendant until the negro had been under cross-examination for "day and night."

The defense succeeded in getting into the reason the statement that the cross-examination had been about the time that Frank's testimony was given, and that this time never had been under cross-examination for "day and night."

Frank's lawyers also held that the cross-examination was not a "day and night" cross-examination, but a "day and night" cross-examination, and that this time never had been under cross-examination for "day and night."

Frank's lawyers also held that the cross-examination was not a "day and night" cross-examination, but a "day and night" cross-examination, and that this time never had been under cross-examination for "day and night."

FIGHTING TO UPHOLD FRANK CASE VERDICT

I'll Go to Pen Before I'll Change Story, Says Fisher

Detectives were puzzled Thursday over the persistence with which Mrs. W. Fisher, the "man of mystery" in the Phagan murder case, sticks to her original story involving another man in the slaying of Mary Phagan and declaring that Mr. Frank is innocent.

The man is an enigma, which detectives are anxiously seeking to solve, not because of any importance they attach to his remarkable recital, but in an effort to ascertain the real motive that prompted him to jump into the Frank case in such a sensational manner.

Despite the severe grilling he has undergone already, Fisher has not shown the slightest signs of weakness, and Thursday morning reiterated his story with the same show of confidence that marked his first recital.

He said when told that he is a "frame-up" or is accused of being a "deceitful" or a "liar" that "nothing to take back."

"I'll go to the pen for the rest of my life before I'll ever change my story in the least," he said. "I have told you the truth, and I will tell you the truth again. I have told you the truth, and I will tell you the truth again. I have told you the truth, and I will tell you the truth again."

Fisher said he is not worrying over the possible consequences of his recital Saturday morning before Justice of the Peace O. H. Puckett on the way out of the courtroom, he said.

"I expected all of this—I'm not surprised at being in jail," he said. "I had read of the way witnesses in the Frank case were being attacked, here and I knew they would go for me as well as I would go for them."

"I started to come over here several weeks ago and tell all I knew about this case, and I knew that you would make it but for me because of my trouble with my wife and my reputation. But I couldn't keep my mouth shut any longer—I just wanted to tell the truth until I had told it something about it."

SLATON CALLED PACIFICATOR BY W. J. HARRIS

W. J. Harris, Director of the Census, in Atlanta Thursday, said the progress of Oscar Slater, one of the prisoners of Governor Slater, was a "booster," which may or may not have something to do with it.

"In terms of the highest approbation, I wish to speak of the administration of Governor Slater. He has brought Georgia all schools of thought closer together than any other man ever did and has eliminated the bitter feeling which has divided our people of this State since two hostile camps for half a dozen years."

"Governor Slater has entirely fulfilled the forecast I made at Macon last year when I said he would be the head of the Western and Atlantic Railroad and I know of no one with whom I would rather trust this great problem than Governor Slater."

"How about Mr. Underwood?" Harris was asked.

"The Georgia delegation, one of the ablest in the House and for that matter the whole Democratic party in Congress, are almost a unit for Mr. Underwood. As leader of the majority in the House Mr. Underwood has done the whole country an invaluable service and has been a most valuable ally of the country."

Mr. Harris spoke of many reforms he had made in the Census Bureau. He said he had changed it from a petty office to a great one, and that he was getting out cotton reports at frequent intervals, and that he was getting out cotton reports at frequent intervals, and that he was getting out cotton reports at frequent intervals.

Next year he is going to take up the census of manufacturing and make similar reports. Agriculture will also be featured.

ATKINSON'S DEFENSE

In a discussion of the nature of the evidence during the trial, the attorney for the defense, Mr. J. H. Roan, asserted that it was not in the province of the jury to determine the truth or falsity of the evidence, but that it was the province of the court to determine whether the evidence was sufficient to support a conviction.

Mr. Roan further asserted that the evidence was sufficient to support a conviction, and that the jury should find the defendant guilty.

which he had not yet obtained, but which he wished to submit along with the rest as soon as they were signed. He remarked that Solicitor General Roan had the exchange of affidavits so late that he had not had the opportunity to get four or five counter-affidavits which he knew were available.

With the review of the defense grounds for a new trial more than a third completed, it was regarded as almost certain that the fight on the jury would be precipitated some Thursday.

Mr. Roan, in support of his contention of bias and violent prejudice, more than enough of affidavits to submit from reputable and prominent persons in Atlanta, Macon, and Monroe, who swore that they had heard him make the same statements of bias and prejudice.

EX-JUSTICE S. D. ATKINSON PRAISES AND AMPLIFIES JURY SYSTEM EDITORIAL

In response to the editorial in Wednesday's "Georgian," "The Jury System of Georgia on Trial," former Supreme Court Justice Stephen D. Atkinson has written the following letter:

Following is Judge Atkinson's letter:

System is Simple. I shall not presume to enter upon a discussion of the jury system as it exists in the particular case to which you refer. It is presumed that you will all deal with that matter in the coming issue of the "Georgian," and that no column can attack to our system because of any revelation which may have been made in it. However, such revelations may require the indication of some of the reasons why the system is simple. I will, therefore, endeavor to state in a few words the reasons why the system is simple. It is simple because it is based upon the principle of the jury system of the United States, which is the best system in the world. It is simple because it is based upon the principle of the jury system of the United States, which is the best system in the world. FIGHTS EFFECTS OF POISON WITH ALL POWER

Brooklyn Man Who Took Bichloride by Mistake Maintains He Will Not Die.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Can an indomitable will overcome the effects of a deadly poison when every ounce of the will power of the sufferer is bent on getting well?

This is a feature in the case of Isaac Levy, a valet, Brooklyn, who has been fighting the effects of bichloride of mercury by mistake.

Although Levy was told by doctors that the tablets he took would cause death and he was forced to make an anti-mortem statement to the coroner after drawing up his will, the patient arose today saying he felt fine.

"I had a good night's rest. I feel no pain nor weakness, and am sure I will be back to my desk in a few days," said Levy.

The case of B. Sanders Walker, the coroner, who died after a few days in which he felt no pain or fatigue, was recalled to him, but Levy replied:

"I am now well and will conquer the effects of the drug. I am confident that the tremendous resistance of my body will overcome the effects of the poison."

SPLENDID LIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

Governor John M. Slaton returned Tuesday from Knoxville, where he was a guest of honor on Monday of the National Conservation Exposition, now being held there.

Monday night the governor and Mrs. Slaton were entertained, with others at dinner by Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, of Atlanta. Colonel Lowry has the success of the Knoxville big show very much at heart, and has done a great deal to further its material as well as its sentimental interests.

Governor Slaton speaks in the highest terms of the exposition. "The Knoxville show is one of the most interesting I ever saw," said the governor. "It is beautiful and instructive. It displays to great advantage the marvelous resources of this entire section; and, while it is large enough for all purposes, it is not so large that it grows the least bit monotonous in any particular."

"The attendance, too, this far has been very gratifying, and I have no doubt whatever that the results of the exposition will be abundant, significant and far-reaching."

Colonel Lowry's dinner was of course, in every way a most delightful occasion. He is a good Georgian. He is a good Georgian. He is a good Georgian.

William J. Harris, Director of the Tennessee and chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, is spending a few days in Georgia attending to some personal business affairs.

Although officially at home in Washington, Mr. Harris promises to visit with his wife in Georgia, and will retain his chairmanship of the State Democratic Executive Committee until the end of his term of service next year. Just after Mr. Harris was named Director of the Tennessee, he was named Director of the Tennessee.

Former Railroad Commissioner B. G. McLendon, of Atlanta, is being generally congratulated upon the successful conclusion of his defense. Mr. Thomas E. Watson, indicted recently by a Federal Grand Jury for August, the scene of the trial, full of confidence and unaffected and delicate victory. He was found, and completely prepared for the hearing, and he had his case about as well as the same.

Poland McLendon left Atlanta Sunday for Augusta, the scene of the trial, full of confidence and unaffected and delicate victory. He was found, and completely prepared for the hearing, and he had his case about as well as the same.

REINDICTMENT OF WATSON UNLIKELY TRIES TO FULFILL HIS VOW TO SLAY

Federal Grand Jury at Augusta Said to Have Failed to Find New Bill.

AT AUGUSTA, Oct. 22.—That the Federal Grand Jury failed to secure a new indictment against Thomas E. Watson, the Thomson editor on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, is the current report here this afternoon. The belief that the grand jury failed to indict is strengthened by the fact that 811 McLendon, Mr. Watson's counsel, left the city this afternoon for Atlanta.

The grand jury will make its presentation to the court Thursday morning. Mr. McLendon informed Judge J. P. R. today that he understood the grand jury would attempt to indict Watson on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, and asked the Judge to recall the grand jury and accept it in recall the grand jury on the ground that Mr. Watson's counsel had no right to anticipate an act of that kind.

Mr. McLendon was informed by the court that if the grand jury brought in an indictment he would then have occasion to enter protest if he desired to make any point. "The best advice I can give you," said the court, "is to stick around."

Giants Fan Must Use Straw Hat All Winter Drummer Held as Pickpocket Is Freed

BRIDGEPORT, OHIO, Oct. 22.—A white man, who when convicted three years ago for forging the name of J. H. Quinte, his employer, took an oath to murder Quinte when he was released, tried to carry out this threat this morning, two days after his liberation.

Hearing a noise in a closet in their home, Mrs. Quinte opened the door and found Quinte, reaching behind it with a long knife in his hands. He seized her and laid her on the floor where her husband was drawing Quinte, a powerful man, snatched his assailant down with a chair and severely wounded him. Mrs. Quinte called the police.

Quinte released his throat that when again liberated he would have Quinte's life.

There Is a Mink Coat Valued at $2,000 Displayed in the Window

It is a wonderful example of the furrier's art, the skins are perfectly matched. There is a notable set of genuine red fox. A mole coat of rare beauty, a Russian sable set that is a symphony.

These furs are from

who have been the world's greatest furriers since 1723. And now comes a year when furs are in as great demand, we venture, as in any year of this nearly two centuries of furmaking. The Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose Co. fur section reflects this tendency! There are coats and sets and separate pieces here in the new fashions, and every piece bears its own name. We will not allow you to be deceived about any piece of fur we show you.

Suits That Women Seem To Like

After all, that is the whole test! We may tell the many details of our experiences in selecting suits, our care, our eagerness to get the right styles, the makers we go to and all that, but the whole question is summed up in the fact that Women seem to like the suits we are showing. Some are kind enough to tell us they are the smartest in town, and numbers are proving that they think so by their purchases. The privilege we seek is to show you, not to tell you here what this style is and that fabric is no word picture—but the suits as they are, how they look on you, how they fit, how they are fashioned, what the materials and the trimmings. These are the to be seen to be appreciated things—and these are the days, too.

The "Becomingest" Hats Here in Atlanta Are From Estelle Mershon

If it were necessary to offer any other proof of the fact than that which a trip to the millinery section gives, we would say that the very fact that these hats are fresh from America's style center, which in turn is very, very close nowadays to the world's style center. Indeed, Estelle Mershon, 20 E. 16th Street, New York, is a Paris shop transplanted. We receive hats from Estelle Mershon almost daily, to the end that the women of Atlanta may choose from styles that are absolutely authentic, superlatively smart—we say this although usually we are not given to the practice of using "ests" and "mosts" in our advertising. Nothing else will do.

Great Mystery--How Are They Able to Play Football Without a National Commission?

• GEORGIAN SPORTS COVERED by EXPERTS •

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL PLAYERS PLAN REVOLT

Eighty-five Per Cent of Players Agree to Hold Out Until After Commission Meets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. There is a great deal of talk about a revolt by the members of the ball players' union against the club owners. A vote which has been taken at the annual meeting of the union shows that eighty-five per cent of the players agree to a boycott of the clubs until the National Commission meets in December.

The National Commission was created by the league and the players' union in 1920 to settle disputes between them. It has since then been the only body which has been able to settle disputes between the two groups. The players' union has since then been the only body which has been able to settle disputes between the two groups.
